NATIONAL COLLECTOR CAR APPRECIATION DAY TOUR

Saturday, August 13, 2019

The South Jersey Region AACA celebrated National Collector Car Appreciation Day with a tour around our area. We started the day with a great breakfast at the Malaga Diner and then visited the South Jersey Classics Auto Lot and Showroom. We saw many very nice cars for sale.

Some of the many cars for sale at South Jersey Classics

After visiting the South Jersey Classic Autos, we went a few miles away to Newfield, NJ and the Matchbox Car Museum. We were welcomed into the museum which houses over 50,000 Matchbox Cars all beautifully displayed. Everett Marshall currently owns the museum but lives in Florida full time and his assistant Ed, currently shows folks through the museum which definitely brings memories of our childhood back to many of us.

Ken Rehrig had his 2 grandchildren there and they had a wonderful time looking at all the cars and especially getting to purchase some cars of their own. There was a special section where the children were able to play and choose some cars to take home.

After visiting the Matchbox Museum we traveled a few more miles a way to Glassboro, NJ and the Bonesaw Brewery. This new craft brewery has just started operation and specializes in their own small batch craft beers. Owner, Rich DiVerniero and brew master AJ Stoll have definitely created some delicious beers. Many of us tasted a selection of their beer.

Terry Shelton

Hello All!

It has been a fun July with lots of activities. Our National Collector Car Appreciation Day Tour was very well attended. We definitely enjoyed driving around to some of our local places.

Especially the South Jersey Classics auto lot. Some great cars for everyone to see and maybe even consider for their own.

The Matchbox Car Museum is always a treat. Brings back memories. And the Bonesaw Brewery was a nice finish to a great day.

The WoodMeier Car Show and Pig Roast was also a great day. The cars were beautiful and the food was great.

Hope to see you at our next Bobbitt Auto Cruise and Friendship and Food.

Seeing Hagerstown and the area as a tourist-----

By Fran Shore

We do antique car tours all over the United States and this past June the annual members tour of the Buzzard's Breath Touring Region was in the Washington County, Maryland area. This area was actually not the first choice of the person in charge. He wanted his home area of Carroll County, Maryland but they weren't interested in tourists. So he contacted the Visitor's Office in Hagerstown and they were wonderful to him and subsequently to our group with all of their suggestions and what they provided to the group. So here we were—six members of South Jersey Region and 3 of us were back home again in Hagerstown. Fran and John grew up there and Brenda was born there. For Dave Kaiser; he had an opportunity to see our "area where we had begun as a family."

Our first day we toured (for the 2nd time for some of us) the wonderful Rural Heritage Museum. It is more than stepping into the past to see artifacts; for anyone raised in the area; it is reliving memories of Sunday drives in the farm areas and how we lived in those years of the 30's, 40's and 50's. Objects and pictures brought to life again our own history. We were able to walk into a rural church relocated there that had been bought and donated by our niece and her husband. The "Hammond's Garage" was donated by a good friend of mine that I had known since infancy as we attended the same Sunday school/ church and 12 years of school together. Her Dad had begun this small garage next to their home when cars were in the late 20's and early 30's and continued its service throughout his life. The actual garage still sits on the corner of the road to Sharpsburg, Maryland.

Hammond's Garage

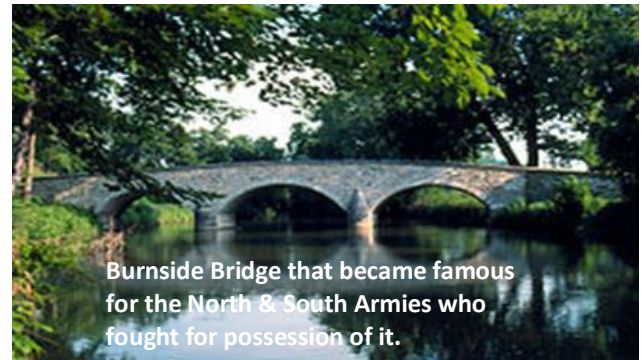

Washington County's Past

That afternoon we all watched the movie at the Antietam Battlefield visitor center and then with that sad background of the Civil War knowledge we drove and some walked the lanes and read the stories of that day and the terrible losses for both North and South. We truly learned why the term "Bloody Lane" was left forever on one of the farm roads in those fields. I have a "walking stick" taken from a branch of a tree with a hand written inscription on it where a civil war soldier described the horrendous loss of soldiers that day. This is a family kept piece of history as Fran's family were farmers on that land at that time.

Bloody Lane where soldiers laid in piles

Burnside Bridge that became famous for the North & South Armies who fought for possession of it.

Our touring companions drove their antique vehicles over those lanes of history and then onto the towns of Sharpsburg and Boonsboro and Funkstown. It was a natural instinct of antique car tourers to also locate a quaint ice cream parlor in the town of Sharpsburg. We were all over the tiny streets with our massive sized cones dipped under the supervision of a lady who told us "to get into line to be served; not a jumble of people." We obeyed! We enjoyed!

Our next day was another type of history. We toured the Washington County Museum of Art and the Hagerstown City Park. Some went to the "Hager House" the actual home of the Jonathan Hager who founded Hagerstown.

We even picnicked there next to railroad engines that once served the region on their route from Washington and Baltimore through Hagerstown which was known as the "HUB CITY" to all points west. Consensus of the group was that to grow up and have that museum and the park there was very nice for us.

Seeing Hagerstown (Continued)

We drove on to the Railroad Museum and what a wonderful display of trains and even trolley history is there. Again it was enjoyed by the group as they saw the town as one that was full of transportation history as well as the culture presented through the art museum. I admit that I had a "behind the scenes" tour of what they were recreating of Hagerstown when the one docent discovered it was my hometown.

The number 1203 Steam Train locomotive that served the old Western Maryland Railroad

Our last day was one that really impressed our antique car people. Don Bowman of Bowman trucking and Real Estate had grown up with Fran, ridden bikes and lived just a few houses apart as children. Don opened his beautiful collection for our group to enjoy. He has not only a fine display but the personal writings about them created a story line of a Hagerstown man who loved the hobby of antique cars as we in our group do.

Our tour chairman, Howard King and the County visitors bureau had arranged that our lunch times were also interesting. We had picnicked at the Hagerstown North End American Legion, the Rural History area near Sharpsburg (battle of Antietam area), the City Park in the train area, and the last day we drove to Williamsport where the Fire Hall was our venue for more good food. We all learned that this little town was once thought of by George Washington as a place for the "Federal City" to be built. The Potomac River and the canal are still enticing people as they did for General Washington. One couple turned left and not right when returning toward Hagerstown and were surprised to discover when they crossed the bridge over the river they were in West Virginia. Oh we locals all know that. But now our friends shared the geographic news that Hagerstown is close to West Virginia and Pennsylvania but so much to do right in Washington County.

Our last night we were treated to dirt track racing at the Hagerstown Speedway. It was my first time there, not John's. The track opened in 1948. A true 1/2 mile track with straightaways over 900 ft. long & 70

ft. wide. The track is 90 ft. wide in the turns. The racing surface is made of the finest red clay in the nation. The smooth, wide surface makes Hagerstown Speedway one of the fastest and safest dirt tracks in the U.S. to race on Many went because it was part of the tour and as I did, ended up loving the sounds and the spirit of the attendees as well as the drivers with their hobby. It was great fun and yes, loud but exciting and unbelievably inexpensive for refreshments and an evening of a different kind of motor fun.

Some of our group enjoyed the Antietam Brewery - go there it is really good! Some went to a winery out on St Paul road- another nice place and they loved the scenery on the way, some liked the antique shops and some the restaurants.

For us--- it was fun to be back "home." It brought memories of our time growing up in this town and what was available to us. So from parks and art to race tracks; it was great fun to share our hometown with our touring friends who were from Oklahoma, Texas, Mississippi, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Georgia, Virginia, Arizona, North Carolina and Delaware. We were in cars from the 1920's to 1992. John and I were in our 1936 Buick Century Convertible and Brenda and Dave Kaiser were in their 1962 Corvette that had been originally sold in Hagerstown at the Chevrolet dealer.

This is a great hobby, we get to drive the old cars and travel and see our country in a different way. We had a few hours of a torrential downpour and yes, convertibles get wet and we remember the cars we drove in our high school years and early 20's. The windshield wipers are also much smaller than today and many of us in these cars have vacuum wipers. No air conditioning, no power steering or power brakes. So we put the windows down and drive carefully and turn those large wheels as our dad's did and our grandfather's in their cars of the older days. Ladies, luggage is pretty limited so you become a great packer. It is fun, and removes us from today's world for a bit and the friendships are wonderful. We were so pleased to have South Jersey Region members, Don and Maria Symonds on the tour to share it with us.

Thank you Fran Shore for a wonderful article.

You too can see your article in print. Why not write something for our members to enjoy.

Woodmeier Farm Classic Car Show & Pig Roast

July 14, 2019

Several South Jersey Region Members attended the Woodmeier Farm Classic Car Show & Pig Roast on Sunday, July 14th in Lambertville, NJ. The picnic is hosted each year by Bruce & Linda Meier to benefit the Amwell Township Fire Department. There were over 200 vintage automobiles, trucks, tractors and fire engines on display.

Those attending were asked to vote for their favorite vehicle and trophies were given out at the end of the day.

The Pig Roast was delicious with pulled pork, barbecued chicken and all the fixings and for dessert they had their own Good Humor Ice Cream Truck with about a dozen different types of ice cream you could choose from.

Attending from our region were Ray & Linda McFarland, Marge & Larry Irwin, Jane & Steve Brown, Ken Rehrig & Donna Nicholson, Terry Shelton, Michelle & Kyle Hamilton, Raymond & Judy Fischer.

NEWS FROM NATIONAL

Join for the Cars, Stay for the People

Mark McAlpine
Vice President - National Activities

We all became involved in the AACA for different reasons, but we stay for a common one: the people.

My wife Marion and I were almost obligated to get involved in the AACA and antique automobile hobby because of birth and circumstances.

Marion & I were both born and raised in the Detroit metropolitan area, and we're "Baby Boomers," so we grew up during the highpoint of Detroit's muscle cars (until, arguably, today) and muscle car culture. Unlike some of today's teenagers, when we came of age it was inconceivable to not have a driver's license and not get it as soon as possible. A driver's license—and if you were lucky, a car—meant freedom. Freedom to drive to school and not have to ride the bus; freedom to get an after-school job; freedom to socialize with friends; freedom to date; freedom to just go do something whenever you wanted.

As children of Detroit, cars were in our DNA. It was probably an omen of things to come for Marion & I that our first date was to the Detroit Auto Show. Shortly after we married, we purchased and customized a Chevy van, and almost started a customizing shop with my father-in-law (a chief clay modeler for GM), but I joined the Air Force instead. My military career made it difficult for us to own an antique car—we moved 18 times in 25 years—but we never lost our love for cars. Everywhere we lived we attended car shows and cruise-ins, and made the pilgrimage home to Detroit as often as we could to attend the Detroit Auto Show. In 2004, after attending another car show, Marion told me, "We need to buy an old car." We purchased a 1970 Chevelle Super Sport and transported it to Tucson, Arizona, my last active duty assignment, where we discovered the AACA. Fifteen years later, I'm fortunate to be a member of the AACA's Board of Directors (something I never aspired to, let alone expected).

I suspect we joined the AACA for reasons shared by many of our fellow members: to enter our car in the local AACA Region's annual show. We renewed our AACA membership and over the years got more involved in both our local region and the national club not just because of the antique vehicles, but more so because of the fun we had, the nice people we met, and the friends we made.

At one of the first AACA Board of Directors meetings I attended, one of the other directors said something I'd never heard before but which rang so true: "Members join the club for the cars, but they stay for the people." We all need to keep this in mind—not just the AACA National Directors, but also every region and chapter officer and every member. In order to survive as a club—let alone continue growing—we need to be welcoming to everyone (regardless of what kind of vehicle they own or like), and our club and regions/chapters need to be fun.
