The '80 Oldsmobile

By Maria & Don Symonds

The 1980 Oldsmobile Cutlass Supreme started life on Staten Island with the Cavagnaro family. It was a loved vehicle for many years until the owners could no longer manage driving. The Olds then passed to one of the sons, Dave Cavagnaro.

Dave was quite fond of the car and held on to it for many years. He didn't use it very much, but since it had belonged to his parents he was attached and he kept the car in good condition.

I married into a car loving family in 1986. I had no idea what that really meant, my car experience was pretty much driving whatever was available and as long as it started it was cool. My grandmother was more of a car nut and actually taught me to drive, and when I say taught, I mean she sat in the passenger seat and let me figure it out. She was fearless and always had something zippy, so I learned to drive a stick shift in her little BMW and also in my mother's Ford Grenada (that is an entirely different story).

My in-laws were AACA members from way back. Family vacations were AACA tours, shows and events and my father-in-law (Don Symonds the elder) made his living in the antique automobile restoration business.

At a certain point he decided that it was time for more comfort on tour. I'm sure many of us can understand that sentiment! Dave Cavagnaro had just the car, the '80 Oldsmobile. Just the ticket. Air conditioning, power steering, power breaks. Ah! The Olds was often referred to as "the modern car".

So, the car changed hands. Dave once told me that the car went up in value as soon as it belonged to my father-in-law. Don put a bit of time and money into getting the car road worthy and when not in use it lived happily in his basement with all his other treasures.

In 2013 the car was given to us. Don (the elder) was in failing health and could no longer do the things he loved. Before his death he gifted each of his sons with an antique car. We got the Olds because it was in great running order and did not need a lot of work. He knew us 😊.

Since we now had no excuse, we joined the AACA, initially just as national members. We spent 2014 going to local shows and driving the car. We made it to Hershey and entered the car in HPOF where we received our first HPOF award. We continued on entering the car in HPOF through 2016 and got a chip each year. Dave Cavagnaro ventured out to the HPOF class in 2014 to see the car on the field. He was pretty happy to see it out there, a tiny bit emotional maybe? I know I was teary when he walked up – that year was rainy and cold and I think HPOF was as far from the entrance as you can get. To get there, you had to have some determination. We had left the car as is, no changes – including the little Snoopy glued in the back window and the flag decal on the side, both items his father had added.

After our success and fun in 2014 we started looking to join a local AACA chapter and decided to give South Jersey Region a try. We had heard good things about the group, we knew Chuck Gibson from Hershey adventures and a club that did a lot of tours and activities sounded like the place to be. (Big secret here – it IS the place to be!). We found our way to Woodstown in November of 2015 and were warmly greeted by (the original) Ron Scott and the fabulous Doretta. We went on our first tour with SJRAACA club members driving the Olds (Founders Tour in Gettysburg) and participated in many other club activities.

PRESIDENT'S CORNER

Terry Shelton

Hi Everyone!

The new year has been pretty mild but there are still many things to do to get ready for our cruising season.

Hope you are tuning up those special cars and making sure they are ready to go.

We have a couple of cruise opportunities in the works for this year.

But, most important, we are gearing up for our Swap Meet, March 21 & 22 and hope everyone will be able to help on one or both days. The more folks that come out both days the better. All help is welcome.

Make sure to spread the word to all your friends.

Your President,
 Terry Shelton

FROM YOUR EDITOR

Linda McFarland

Hello Everyone!

The month of January has really spoiled us and we are enjoying the fact that we haven't had any of that white stuff. But, you never know what the next month will bring. The famous groundhog has predicted an early spring. Hopefully he is correct and we will have a mild winter.

I hope you enjoy the February Newsletter. Thank you to Marie & Don for their article. I know some of you have a story to tell.

How about sending me your article.

I am sure our members will enjoy reading about your favorite experience with your special car.

In 2017 we wanted to try our luck at some more challenging competition. HPOF is certainly a fun class to be in, you never know what you are going to see. It's a blast. But we wanted another experience. We found and purchased our 1976 Gran Prix and started off on class competition and touring. Our goal was to get a Senior with the '76, which we did. But this meant the Oldsmobile was just sitting in a garage, not being used for anything. The car was not going to be a show car (for us), the A/C was getting dicey and the car had some trouble getting out of its own way. But we just couldn't quite make the commitment to let it go.

We wanted it to be somewhere good, not just dumped as a beater or parts car. There was too much personal history for that. Don (the younger) finally decided to give it a try and offered the car for sale on Facebook Marketplace. And you know, we got people interested! Eventually a gentleman from Louisiana made contact and an offer, and we accepted. He was fond of that era vehicle and a bit of an Oldsmobile guy and we wanted to give the car another breath of life.

As we sorted through the paperwork, getting the car ready to go we came across a photo. The picture was taken by Dave Cavagnaro and it was Don and Pauline Symonds with the Olds, circa 2011. On the back of the photo Dave had written "Don & Pauline Symonds @ Lukens Farm Resort NJ Region Tour With Mom and Dads 1980 Olds Cutlass". That was very special.

The sale transaction went through and a car carrier came to collect the Olds. I was not there, and I'm not sure I wanted to be. It was bittersweet. We felt sad to see it go, but we were glad it was heading to a good home. That car meant a lot of things to a lot of people and it was the reason we joined SJRAACA and found all these new friends and had all these great experiences. Thank you "Modern Car"!

Nothing New Under the Sun Department: Early-1900s Electric Vehicle

The EV (electric vehicle) is in the news today and out on the roadways, and many believe that it is a new form of transport invented in the late-1900s. In actuality, it is reported that the first known EV was constructed by Anyos Jedlik, a Hungarian priest in 1828, a year after he built an electric motor. By the late-1880s in the UK, and Europe electric cars and the storage battery had been developed enough to become useable for short-range trips.

The US Energy Department reported that “William Morrison, from Des Moines, Iowa, created the first successful electric vehicle in the U.S. His car is little more than an electrified wagon, but it sparks an interest in electric vehicles.” The first commercially produced EV’s in the US became available in the late-1890s to 1900 and were popular for short trips up until the 1920s.

Cuyahoga EV, and a GE mercury arc rectifier Battery charger.

1900 General Electric EV owned by Jesse Lovejoy the GE Secretary in front of the Schenectady, NY plant.

“Boss” Kettering had developed the electric starter enough by 1911 that it came as standard equipment on the 1912 Cadillac, and generally acknowledged to be the first American car to be so equipped. At that point, the “writing was on the wall” spelling the end of the EV, although the Detroit Electric Car Company continued on to as late as 1938 when at that time it was rebuilding its earlier machines.

The image at top of article, contains a Cuyahoga EV, and a GE mercury arc rectifier battery charger. It was produced by the Cuyahoga Motorcar Company in Pennsylvania from 1908 to '09, and 1910 to '11 by the Cleveland Electric Vehicle Company.

Antique Car Culture Exchange

Bob Parrish
Vice President
National Awards

My wife, Dot and I had the very fortunate experience of meeting an English couple on a cruise last year. We were seated together for dinner for the entire cruise to Ireland, Scotland and a one day trip to Paris, France. Through conversations we discovered we were both antique car hobbyists. Phillip was very knowledgeable about American cars and we hit it off pretty well.

We invited them to our home in Virginia, and they came in the spring of 2019. We carried them to see private car collections that our Region members have and other interesting locations in southeastern Virginia. On the next phase of their vacation we carried them to Charlotte for the Southeastern Spring Nationals. They became AACA members and they served their Apprentice judging in Charlotte. While in Charlotte, we took them to see some private collections that overwhelmed them. We really enjoyed being hosts to them.

Upon returning to England, they sent e-mails asking us to visit them in North Yorkshire, UK so they could return the hospitality. So, in September we visited with them for two weeks and they took us everywhere, including a large local classic car show, the British Car Museum, the Morgan Factory and many historical places. I also gave the program for their local MG Club meeting on AACA history.

If people would only share their stories and interests, who knows how much fun you would have. These were some of the nicest people you would ever want to meet and there are plans to expand this cultural exchange further. Chalk up another positive experience for our hobby.
